Session 3: Breakout Sessions

3A: The AI Imperative: A Trailblazer’s Perspective

Artificial intelligence and big data are changing the face of the AEC Industry. Hence, BST Global brought together 15 senior technology visionaries from the world’s preeminent AEC consultancies in April to share how they’re preparing for an AI-powered and data-driven future. BST Global CEO Javier A. Baldor will reflect on the AI Summit, an industry-first event focused on all things AI for the AEC Industry, and share exclusive insights derived from the event, including:

- How to strike a balance between the critical priorities you face today and navigating uncharted waters to strategically position your business for future success
- What the first few steps on your AI journey can look like and what AI essentials you’ll want in place to achieve long-term success
- Why traditional business models will be upended with the rise of AI and how to explore new ideas for the future of the industry
- Examples of real AI use cases happening in our industry that you can implement at your own firm

Presenter: Javier A. Baldor, CEO, BST Global

Colorado Hall B

3B: Building the Future Executive Team

As executive team capabilities necessarily expand to get in front of industry trends, CEOs need time to reflect on how their C-Suite organizational structure must change to meet future demands. In groups by firm size, participants will contemplate how their team’s roles and capabilities will change in the next 5 years, and what that means for their team’s structure and talent pipeline.

Facilitator: Dimitri Milionis, EFCG Vice President, Talent & Compensation

Colorado Hall A

3C: Earnings, Sustainability, and Growth? The Evolving Nature of ESG

This session will explore the developing landscape of Sustainability and Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) within the industry, focusing on emerging trends, industry benchmarks, and regulatory developments shaping ESG strategies. We will address key priorities for executives, providing insights on how to navigate challenges, leverage opportunities, and drive sustainable growth. Attendees will gain practical approaches to increasing revenue, aligning ESG goals with business objectives, and differentiating their firms.

Presenter: Andreas Georgoulis, EFCG Director, Sustainability & ESG

Colorado Hall F

3D: US Election Impacts on the AEC Industry

Explore how the upcoming US election could shape the industry through potential policy shifts, economic changes, and regulatory impacts. ACEC’s Steve Hall will bring his expertise to the dialogue, providing insights into navigating political uncertainty and preparing your firm for various election outcomes. The session will briefly touch on current issues and agenda items remaining in 2024 before focusing extensively on the major strategic policies that the next Administration and Congress will address that will impact AEC firms.

Session 4: Technology Leader vs. Fast-Follower: What Success Looks Like Based on Your Firm’s Strategy

In today’s business environment, firms must decide whether to be technology leaders or fast-followers to drive innovation and growth. This session will explore the strategic choices between these roles. EFCG’s Technology & Innovation Practice Lead Marcus Quigley will reveal what we are seeing across the industry today and how you can leverage your firm’s position for optimal results. Key players in the AEC space will then highlight their successful technology strategies and share their perspectives on the future direction of the industry to remain competitive and drive tech advancement.
